CHRISTOPHER IN OKMULGEE AGAIN TO RESUME SEAT

Judge Views Robertson's
Action On Resignation
As Closed Incident.

WANTS ALL TO FORGET

"My Prayer Is That Public
Will Sometime Realize
I Was in Right."

(By the Associated Press)
OKMULGEE, Mar. 13.—Judge H. R. Christopher of the Oklahoma county superior court was here today to resume his seat on the bench, having returned late yesterday from Chicago where he went on Coyle, Okla., exactly a month ago today. Judge Christopher left here February 9, for Coyle after dissolving a grand jury which was about to conduct an investigation into the affairs of the defunct Bank of Commerce. His action aroused a demonstration of protest here, and his resignation from the bench was required. While at Coyle, the judge communicated with members of the bar association and offered to resign. He was told this would be unwise, he offered his resignation on February 13, and the same day disappeared. It was almost two weeks before it was learned he was in Chicago with relatives and Governor Robertson wrote a letter to him there, declining to accept his resignation. The judge then announced that he would not insist the resignation be accepted and that he would return here as soon as he recovered from an attack of influenza.

A Closed Incident.
Judge Christopher told the Associated Press while at his home this morning that he regarded as a closed incident Governor Robertson's action referring to his acceptance of his resignation and that so far as he is concerned nothing further will be done in the matter.

"I had planned to reach here two weeks ago today," the judge said, "but unfortunately my physical condition would not permit. Now that I am here, I will continue my court duties as if the events of the past month had never occurred and my prayer now is that the people here will ultimately realize that I acted according to law in dismissing the grand jury and that they will judge accordingly." Judge Christopher said he intended to go to his office later in the day and would look into the present condition of his courts, both here and at Henryetta. Inasmuch as the term at Henryetta has been "kept alive" during his absence, he intimated that he would go there soon and assume his seat on the bench.

To Call Special Term.
As for the term here, which automatically expired last Wednesday, the judge said he had not decided what course he would follow because he desired to consult the law in the case, but that probably he would call a special term shortly.

Judge Christopher reiterated his previous statement that he went to Coyle because he and his family had planned a short vacation there at that time, and not because he feared the consequences of his action. He was reticent concerning his departure from Coyle, saying that he went to "nearly every place except Chicago" for rest before going to the home of his brother-in-law after being taken ill with influenza.

Judge Christopher, who is 45 years of age, said he had lost some weight during his sickness but otherwise appeared to have suffered no ill effects. He expressed satisfaction at being able to be with his family and friends again and said he was anxious to go to work and "earn my salary."

Jury Starts Last Lap.
OKMULGEE, March 13.—The district court grand jury investigation of the affairs of the failed Bank of Commerce reconvened this morning after a recess over the week-end and began what officials believe to be its final week of work. It was believed that a report would be made the latter part of the week.

In 15 states the U. S. Reclamation Service has retrieved 3,000,000 arid acres through irrigation projects.

Booze Yeggmen Blow Vault of Cellar, Reveling in Liquor Seventeen Hours

Photo diagram shows interior of drawing room of Hart mansion, near San Francisco, as hooch robbers revealed; lower picture shows liquor vault door dynamited; insert, Julien Hart, wealthy silk merchant.

A sextet of hooch bandits invaded the home of Julien Hart, wealthy silk merchant, at Manlo Park, near San Francisco, while Miss Mary Conway was his guest. The thugs proceeded to bind the servants and forced Hart and his fair guest to remain seated on a davenport in the drawing room while they blew the steel door to the concrete vault in which he kept his liquor supply. For seventeen hours they reveled in bacchanalian debauch while their helpless victims looked on. The bandits mixed courtesy with brutality toward their unwilling hosts. When Miss Conway complained of being cold the bandits' leader ordered one of his men to build a fire in the grate. When one of the bandits approached Miss Conway in a threatening manner he was beaten by his brother bandits. After the revel the bandits escaped with $25,000 worth of liquor. Miss Conway is an aviator, an art student at Stanford University and a daughter of Bob Fowler, pioneer aviator.

JOBS FOR VETS OF WAR SOUGHT HERE

Norman Howard Post Will Meet Tuesday Night and Talk Unemployment.

Getting jobs for Ada's jobless former service men will be one of the things taken up Tuesday night at a business meeting of Norman Howard Post of the American Legion, at the legion hall, according to an announcement made today by Gilbert F. Polly, post commander.

The campaign will be in line with the national American Legion Employment Day March 20. A proclamation setting this day in Oklahoma when the state will bring together "every potential employer and every public spirited citizen in every community for the purpose of getting work for the war veteran" has been issued by Governor J. B. Robertson.

Committees and a complete working organization for the movement are expected to be worked out in the meeting here tomorrow night.

"Everybody's Task"
According to the governor's proclamation all citizens will be expected to "focus the attention of the entire community on their local situation, as shown by the survey of home conditions, and formulate suggestions for remedy." Final plans for the survey were made Sunday at a meeting of the legion state executive committee at Oklahoma City. The local post has distributed service census blanks through the county and is urging all war veterans to fill out and return these at once. These will form the basis of plans for the concerted action to secure jobs.

Another matter to be taken up at the post meeting, Tuesday night will be the selection of delegates for the district legion convention to be held Friday at Chandler. Invitations to the meeting were received this morning by Polly. A business session will be held in the afternoon and a banquet at night, according to Moody Nicholson, commander of the Chandler post. It is thought that as many as five men will go from Ada.

CONDITION OF NATIONAL BANKS IS CALLED IN

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Mar. 13.—The comptroller of the currency today issued a call for the condition of all national banks at the close of business Friday, March 10. OKLAHOMA CITY, Mar. 13.—A call for the condition of all state banks at the close of business on Friday, March 10, was issued here today by Roy Wolcott, acting state bank commissioner.

2 Prominent Men Named by Woman As Real Killers

(By the Associated Press)
SAN FRANCISCO, Mar. 11.—Mrs. Louise Peete in a statement made at St. Quentin prison today designated two Los Angeles men as slayers of Jacob Denton, wealthy Los Angeles mine promoter for whose death Mrs. Peete was convicted of murder and sentenced to life imprisonment, according to Mrs. Angela Kauffman, philanthropist and social worker of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Peete, according to Mrs. Kauffman, had knowledge of the slaying. The two men named, it was said, are both prominent residents of Los Angeles. Mrs. Kauffman said Mrs. Peete made the statement in her cell at St. Quentin in the presence of Mrs. Kauffman and her attorney, S. Hahn. Mrs. Kauffman said Mrs. Peete signed the statement and that Hahn already was enroute to Los Angeles to obtain affidavits and deposition from several persons declared in a position to substantiate the convicted woman's declaration.

FARM-LABORERS SELECT A TICKET

Party Names Its Complete
County and State Lineup
Here Saturday.

The county convention of the Reconstruction League held Saturday afternoon made endorsements for all offices except county judge. This was left open for further consideration. A campaign committee of six was provided for, the chair to appoint three and the delegates from each commissioner's district to select another.

Following unions were represented in the convention: Maintenance of Way, Carpenters, Brotherhood of Railway Clerks and Farmers Union. Farmers outnumbered the others heavily but several times asked the other bodies to put some of their members in nomination for offices but they expressed themselves as satisfied as matters stood and with possibly one exception all nominees were Farmers Union men except in the case of district judge and county attorney and both of these gave their endorsement to the principles of the League.

In the case of state senator it was stated that the Seminole county delegates to the Shawnee convention had agreed to support the nominees put out by the Pontotoc county convention.

Following is the complete ticket: State senator, J. O. McMinn. Representative, Rev. J. A. Williams of Steadman.

District judge, D. W. Huffer. County attorney, A. C. Chaney. Court clerk, Will Summers of Stonewall.

County treasurer, Albert Chamberlain. Sheriff, W. B. Walker. County superintendent, A. T. Watson.

County clerk, Will Peck. Tax assessor, J. B. Faber. County weigher, A. H. Simpkins. County commissioner, first district, H. F. Reed; second district, Lon Brandon; third district, J. W. Higbee of Fitzhugh.

Fitzhugh Pioneer Dead

FITZHUGH, March 3.—(Special)—Thomas Self, 82, who has lived in Fitzhugh for more than 17 years died at his home here at 6 p. m. Saturday evening. Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon and interment took place in East Hill cemetery. Roff. Mr. Self was well known in the county, being of the pioneers here.

COMMITTEES TO GO OUT TUESDAY FOR TRAIL FUND

Ada Only Town Delinquent
On Highway Quota, Says
Atoka Road Official.

MEMBERSHIPS SOUGHT

Campaign Groups Will Meet
Tomorrow Morning and Open the Drive.

With committees ready, all plans fully prepared and enthusiasm growing hourly, the drive for Ada's $1,000 quota for the Stratford-Texas branch of the Ozark Trails system is expected to be put over the top in a short time Tuesday. The fund will be raised by securing memberships, according to N. B. Stall, president of the Ada Good Roads Motor club.

Committees will meet at the Chamber of Commerce rooms at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning, and the drive will start immediately thereafter, according to present plans. Mr. Stall, in a telephone conversation with William Gill, secretary of the branch line, at Atoka, this morning was informed that Ada was practically the only town along the line that has not turned in its quota.

Part of the money will be used in erecting a pyramid which will be constructed at the intersection of Oak avenue and Main street. The remainder of the money will be expended in marking the route through this district. Memberships will be sold in year, 10-year and life memberships. Year memberships will cost $5, 10-year memberships $25, and life membership $100.

Committees appointed to have charge of the work are: West of Broadway and north of Main street—E. H. McKellar, Sherwood Hill and Mr. Oliver; south of Main and west of Broadway—Jess Emery, Tom McCarty, W. M. Emanuel and R. W. Simpson; east of Broadway and south of Main—Langford Shaw, W. E. Harvey, and Charles Zorn; east of Broadway and north of Main—T. B. Blake, W. G. Moser and Walter Wray.

HARDING STOPS CRUISE TO HAVE GAME ON LINKS

(By the Associated Press)
FT. PIERCE, Fla., March 13.—President Harding expects to conclude his vacation and leave St. Augustine Friday for Washington, he intimated today to newspapermen. Ft. Pierce, Fla., March 13.—President Harding had planned a brief interruption of his house boat cruise today for a game of golf at Verna, 14 miles from here. Spending the night aboard the craft at anchor in the Indian river the president had arranged to make the early landing here and motor down the golf course.

Continuance of their leisurely cruise down the coast yesterday, the president and his party spent all day aboard the houseboat which made only a brief stop at Lockridge where mail and newspapers awaited. It was not known today how far south the president plans to go, but some of the members of the party are urging him to continue beyond the middle of the week, the time set for their return to St. Augustine. The decision was believed to be depending on weather conditions and developments at Washington.

A group of newspaper men assembled on the pier at Lockridge, President Harding yesterday expressed his approval of the letter of Secretary Hughes to Senator Underwood on the four power Pacific treaty.

"That's fine; I'm glad he did it," the president said when informed of the substance of the letter as carried in news dispatches.

War Who Started School Scandals is Asked To Resign

ST. LOUIS, March 13.—The resignation of Victor J. Miller, president of the board of police commissioners, was demanded by the Central Trades and Labor unions, according to a resolution adopted in a meeting of what that body made public today. A committee of the organization which represents 25,000 men and women of this city, will attempt to meet Governor Arthur M. Hyde, here today to present their demands. Commissioner Miller, nearly last week declared "that there is an organization of girl students in one of our high schools founded upon the entrance requirement that each member must have had an intimate relationship with a boy," and that "similar organizations exist among the boys."

Later Commissioner Miller, according to a resolution adopted during an indignation meeting of patrons and officials of the high school yesterday, is declared to have said "that the charge of vice at Soldan High school was not strong enough."

SULPHUR'S MAYOR REFUSES TO QUIT

Riley Carries Letter Today
To Attorney General in Quest of Hearing.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Mar. 13.—Elmer E. Fulton, assistant attorney general, today was instructed by Attorney General George F. Shott to proceed to Sulphur and start an investigation of the condition there relative to the condition of the city of Sulphur, and officials of that city. A committee of citizens from Sulphur, headed by John T. Young, called upon Mr. Shott today with a request that Mayor W. H. Riley of Sulphur be ousted from office. A thorough investigation of the affairs of the city and the defunct Bank of Commerce is asked in a letter carried to Oklahoma City by Mayor W. P. (Pat) Riley, who will call on Attorney General Shott and lay before him the situation as he sees it.

At a meeting of the citizens Sunday a committee was appointed to go to Oklahoma City and demand that the attorney general start an investigation of the conditions and proceedings against Mayor Riley. It was also voted at the meeting to continue making demands for a grand jury investigation. Just when the citizens committee will go to the capitol has not been learned.

The letter which Mayor Riley is carrying to Oklahoma City today is signed by that official and is taken primarily as documentary evidence. Following is the contents as given exclusively to the Daily Ardmoreite correspondent:

"With the growing unrest that has been caused in our city by the failure of the Bank of Commerce, the death of Charles A. Bryan, and exposure of the conditions of the bank, I deem it an imperative necessity to request you to immediately make a fair investigation of the conditions and affairs of the city officers and city government."

"There are so many rumors afloat that public confidence has almost been entirely destroyed."

"There is an organized effort on the part of a few citizens here to force my hand in the disposal of the recent civic improvement bonds. I have steadily refused to do their biddings, also refusing to tender my resignation."

"The so-called citizen's committee has no legal standing and I am fighting it upon the principles of democracy and inherent rights and duties of elected officials to render a just administration of affairs of the offices to which they are elected."

KEEPS FAMILY OF 6 ON $10 MONTH OF COUNTY FUND

Heroic Widow, Struggling
Against Poverty in Steedman Home, Asks Aid.

CALLS ON RED CROSS

Death Robs Household of Provider and Home Is Destroyed by Fire.

How a plucky little mother skimped and managed to stretch $10 over a month's time, making it support her and five young children after the death of the father was described this morning in a pathetic letter received by Mrs. Orville Snead, Red Cross secretary, from a destitute home near Steedman.

Early last March death took the family's provider. There were then four small children playing about the fireside. Three months later twins were born. Last week one of the twins died and the other is said to be seriously ill. The children are a boy of 13, a girl 10, a girl 7, a girl 3, and an 8-months old baby.

Her brief letter said: "Dear Mrs. Snead: It looks like a have more trouble than anybody. I had my house burned Tuesday and even though I had but a few bed clothes I never got out a dress for myself nor for the little children. I was sick and my little baby was sick."

"If you can get help for me I would be glad. I have only the dress which I have on my back. If you can help me I will send a wagon in one day next week and get the stuff. Please help me if you can. I haven't a thing but a few groceries that the neighbors gave me. Please do all you can for me as I sure do need help. I have got to have a house built if I can get aid."

During the winter the United Charities office here has furnished clothing for the family but the stock of charity garments is now exhausted, Mrs. Snead said. The Red Cross office is now appealing for donations of any kind, clothing, food, furniture, housekeeping utensils, or bedding. The secretary said she had on hands a mattress which she would send to the family. The woman's case has been described by Mrs. Snead as "most deserving." She has been given $10 a month this winter from the county widows pension fund.

Man Knocked Down By Dark Auto and Is Badly Bruised

A man whose name has not been learned was knocked to the pavement on East Main street last night, and his leg badly bruised, all because an automobile was being driven without a light, according to police reports this morning. This is only one of several accidents that have been caused by cars driving without lights, it was said.

Fortunately the man was not badly injured, police said, but it was only by a "trick of fate" that he escaped even worse injuries than a few bruises. "There is a law in the city that forbids cars being driven without lights after dark and this law will be enforced, according to city officials."

REPUBLICANS RESOLVE TO REPORT BONUS BILL

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Mar. 13.—Republican members of the house today means committee decided at a conference today to stand pat on their determination to report the compromise soldier bonus bill, despite objection to its approval by Secretary Mellon and Comptroller of the Currency Crissinger.

G. O. P. TACTICS ARE BITTERLY PLAYED AT HOLDENVILLE

Declarations that Democratic defeat in the last presidential election "terminated prosperity" and that the "American flag has come to be regarded as the sordid badge of commercialism" are contained in resolutions adopted by the democratic congressional committee at Holdenville last week. A copy of the resolutions was received in Ada today.

"The evils of misgovernment were never more apparent and unrestrained" one sections of the resolutions declares. "A national administration called to power by a misled public to solve the problems incident to unexampled war has done nothing to bring the nation from the edge of chaos and restore it to the ways of peace and prosperity. History affords few examples of an administration that promised more and performed less."

"We call to the attention of the public the prosperous years of the Democratic ascendancy. We recall with gratification that it was under a Democratic president that the nation reached the height of its prosperity and achieved a standing unsurpassed among the nations of the earth."

"American soldiers who gave everything to the nation in the days of war are begging bread on the streets of our cities and are arrested as vagrants in every state of the union."

Many Unemployed.
"The number of unemployed exactly equal the popular majority of Mr. Harding in 1920."

In a plan for the proper administration of laws in every community the resolutions said: "We pledge the Democracy of this district to support our legally constituted authorities in every effort they make to punish those guilty of maladministration. We urge the voters of our political faith to study with zealous care the character of candidates for public office and to support only those whose lives and habits are above reproach."

"We favor control of all parties by the rank and file of those parties. To that end we are opposed to hand picked tickets and back stairs caucuses that seek to take from the people their inherent right to rule. We oppose the representation of any county or precinct in any convention by a proxy who does not live in that county or precinct."

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

A SAFE INVESTMENT:—He that hath pity upon the poor lendeth unto the Lord; and that which he hath given will he pay him again.—Prov. 19.17.

THE NEWSPAPER AND THE SCHOOLS.

In times past the ignorance of current events on the part of teachers was the subject of many jokes and the idea of using newspapers as part of the curriculum was unthought of. It was only history made a generation before was considered while little attention was given to history in the process of making. One of the longest forward steps in our educational system was the recognition of the fact that keeping abreast of the events and thought of the day is of prime importance and the pupils encouraged to read the newspapers. If there is any better way of making them think for themselves and have a better grasp of public problems we do not know what it is. A well informed citizenship is the greatest bulwark of any free nation.

Texas is taking steps for better educational facilities. It has at least penetrated the skulls of the general public that as a starter it takes money to run schools. In our teaching days in Texas most school boards in the rural districts and some towns were more concerned about how cheaply they could get a teacher than about his qualifications. The idea was that he had a soft snap and they begrudged him every dollar they had to pay. The majority of the rural districts any many fair sized towns would not consider a minute the question of voting a tax to support the schools. They took what the state provided and the term closed when this was exhausted. The result was that the competent teachers either went to the larger towns where conditions were better or else quit the profession in disgust and the money spent for these schools largely wasted. It is refreshing to know that our native state is waking up. A lot of those old moss back school trustees of twenty-five years ago have evidently been shelved and the people willing to pay more and demand better service than they did a quarter of a century ago. Good for Texas.

Judging from the number of officials who have been put out of office in Oklahoma and the general trend of thought, the great test of candidates this year, it would seem, will be the attitude towards law enforcement. Indications are that any many who does not stand for the rigid enforcement of all laws will have hard sledding either in the primary or in the general elections. In this connection, Luther Harrison in the Holdenville Democrat remarks: "Since the ides of November four Oklahoma sheriffs have been suspended because of malfeasance in office, three permanently and one temporarily. One of them, Garrett of Ardmore, is a Democrat. The other three, Kuhn of Okmulgee, Freas of Pawhuska and Sanders of Pittsburg, are Republicans. No political party has a monopoly on honesty and no party is free from dishonest men. Administration is nothing but a mirror of the character of officials, and official life can only be bettered by the election of clean competent men."

GREAT INCREASE IN BUILDING.

According to figures compiled by the Portland Cement association from Bradstreet's and the American Contractor Building Statistics, building operations in the larger cities of the United States showed a remarkable increase during January over the same month for the three years preceding. For 178 of the largest cities the average increase was 136 percent. Many showed a much higher rate than this and a very few showed a slight decrease. In terms of money the amount expended in January in these cities totaled $141,647,000. In January, 1921, it was $59,840,000. In January, 1920, it was $128,883,000 and for January, 1919, it was $24,074,000.

Some one sympathizing with an old man in a time of sorrow said: "You have been surrounded by troubles all your life." The old man, who always looked on the bright side of life replied: "Yes, I have always been surrounded by troubles, but, thank God, most of them did not happen." If the first man who caught a glimpse of the towering and forbidding crag of the Rocky mountains had decided that he was confronted by an impassable barrier he would have turned back in short order, but by pressing on he managed to discover passes which permitted him to reach California with all its mineral and agricultural wealth awaiting development.

And now comes the state of Arkansas not only setting up a claim for the bed of Red river over which Texas and Oklahoma are lawing, but also asserts a claim to a good sized slice of the Lone Star state itself. Gaul may have been divided into three parts in the days of Julius Caesar, but just now Arkansas has a monopoly of all the gall in this part of the universe.

The Wichita Falls Times observes that there has been no garden of Eden since the time of Adam. In other words, there is no spot on earth that has no disadvantages. Some people are always moving about hunting for such a spot but they are rolling stones that gather no moss. Oklahoma in general and Ada in particular is good enough for us.

CALEDONIA MILLS NOT THE ONLY HAUNT OF TROUBLESOME SPIRITS

The Form of the Press

Our Military Inheritance

To a very considerable extent every nation in the world is prevented from taking a sane and practical view of questions of national preparedness and national defense by its inheritance of experiences and ideas. For instance, no matter what the situation may be, no German and no Frenchman could ever be convinced that a large army is not essential to national security and greatness. Nor is there any nation so small or so obscure that agencies of national defense have not at some time played a part in its history, and probably saved it from submergence or crushing defeat. We ourselves are no exception to this universal rule. There are all sorts of divergent views about the proper policy for the United States in fixing the future totals of army and navy and in ordering means of national defense. We do not know, and it is really not possible to know, just what we ought to do in order on the one hand, not to lay unnecessary burdens on the taxpayer and, on the other, not to strip the nation and leave her defenseless against a possible waiting and watchful foe.

The most reasonable and patriotic position, which ought to be commended to the extremists in congress, is to seek a middle ground. Only those who are working secretly for some form of a revolution which they are hoping to bring about would reduce our army to a few thousand men. And only the military-mad man would keep up a mighty military organization in face of the obvious impossibility of attack by land forces. A like rule holds good for the navy. "Preparedness" talk has been a little overdone.

Since we must always make some concession, probably to the inheritance of military ideas that the whole world has in common, it is a pity that we could not make the main item of it a greater provision for those aerial factors which will control and decide the issue if another war should ever unhappily come.

The Blackest Hour.

(Bartlesville Examiner)
Twenty thousand Americans committed suicide in 1921. This is the estimate by the Save-a-Life league, whose members work to prevent suicides.

Included in the list of those who took their own lives were 858 children and 509 war veterans.

The oldest suicide was 100 years old and the youngest 5.

Easy to explain the great increase in suicides, says Harry M. Warren, president of the Save-a-Life league.

He blames it largely on disturbed economic conditions that have caused a tidal wave of business failures, unemployment and the personal suffering resulting from financial setbacks.

Also, "the growing complexity of our modern life, the feverish unrest, crimes, divorces, questionable dress, unhappy home relations, the decline of religious sentiment, and other things have caused deranged nerves, depression and less self-control."

The empty pocketbook is a leading cause of suicides, but not the only one. Last year 75 millionaires took their own lives.

Millions of Americans—many, disillusioned—and discouraged almost to desperation and distraction. What they need is this powerful spiritual tonic—the knowledge that it is always blackest just before dawn.

Since May, 1920, Americans have gone through a terrific earthquake of prices, fortune and general economics.

Many of us are saturated with the poison of self-pity.

Yet our grandparents, in the days following the Civil War, went thru exactly the same sort of hard times that we are going through now. So did their grandparents, after the War of 1812.

The only difference is that they suffered more. We of this generation do not know what real hard times are. Get some old resident to tell you about the panic of 1873—"when a dollar would buy nearly anything, but almost no one had the dollar."

Life is more or less of a gamble an endless chain of alternate losses and winnings. Many of us, in facing present problems, need some of the gambler's pluck, nerve and fatalism.

Any one who has ever known a professional gambler has heard him say: "I've been a long time in a run of hard luck. Things couldn't get much worse, so they're due for a change."

The gambler has truth behind him. A run of luck is always worst just before there's a turn for the better. The fever victim's temperature reaches its highest point, the crisis, just before there's a turn for the better.

Cheer up, folks. The night is black. But the clock is striking 4. Dawn—the sunrise of a bright new day—is close at hand.

Hold the fort just a little longer. Relief is near.

The month of April was called Ooster, or Easter month by the Anglo-Saxons, and grass month by the Dutch.

Campbell Is Given Year and Day Upon Narcotics Charge

Herschel Campbell pleaded guilty to possessing narcotics before Judge J. W. Bolen in district court late Saturday afternoon and was sentenced to a year and a day in the penitentiary.

Campbell was convicted of a misdemeanor before Judge Bolen in October, 1920, but on account of the lad being so young, the judge suspended the sentence. This suspended sentence was revoked Saturday, and he was given a year and a day on the former charge. The sentences are to run concurrently.

ARMORE MAN BACK ON JOB

Mr. A. F. Pape, Forced To Quit Work, Resumes Duties With Old-Time vigor After Taking Puratone.

It is most interesting to note the frequency with which those taking Puratone, the medicine recently introduced into Oklahoma following its remarkable success in other parts of the country, state that it has put them in condition to do their work efficiently.

Now comes Mr. A. F. Pape, who resides in Ardmore and has been a successful Brick Mason for forty years, and says:

"For months I suffered with my stomach and bowels. My digestion was poor. My kidneys troubled me constantly. I had pains across my back and black spots before my eyes. My sleep was broken through having to get up several times during the night. My condition became so bad I finally had to give up my job.

"Seeing in the Ardmoreite how Puratone had helped others, I thought I would try it. After taking three bottles I am on my job again and feel the old-time vigor I once had. I am sleeping well and am not troubled by having to get up nights, and those black spots have disappeared. In fact, I am feeling my old self again. I certainly recommend Puratone for stomach and kidney troubles."

Puratone is sold in Ada by Gwin & Mays Drug Store; Allen, Gwin & Saffarans; Stonewall, C. L. Burnett; Stratford, Bayless Drug Co., and leading druggists everywhere. (adv)

UNIVERSITY OF TULSA WILL NOT HOLD ACADEMY

TULSA, March 11.—At a recent meeting of the executive committee of the board of trustees of the University of Tulsa it was unanimously resolved to discontinue the academy courses hitherto carried by the institution. However, that none enrolled may suffer no inconvenience, some sub-freshman college courses will be given for the next year or two.

When the college was organized in 1894 it carried grade work as well as high school and academy in order to meet conditions then existing. Later the grade work was abolished and with the passing of the academy the university will be free to devote its entire energies and resources to strictly college work, leaving the preparatory work for the numerous high schools now doing good work everywhere. Additional courses will be added to the curriculum as rapidly as circumstances will permit.

President Gordon states that indications point to a large enrollment at the summer term of this year. Many who are unable to attend during the regular term will enter for the summer and many regular students are expected.

A new search light perfected by Almer A. Sperry has a brightness 500 percent greater than any other in existence.

GAUNT DEATH IS STALKING VOLGA

Masses of Frozen Humans in Contorted Shapes Common Sight, Reported.

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Mar. 13.—Tangled heaps of frozen corpses, some attacked by starved dogs, sickness, dirt and cold in the Volga Valley are described to Secretary Hoover in the nightmare picture of the famine districts of Soviet Russia drawn by Dr. Thomas H. Dickerson, of the American Relief Administration, in a special report on conditions there.

Dr. Dickerson made a month's tour of the Volga Valley and the foothills of the Urals, travelling for 4,000 miles by rail, auto and sledge, inspecting 150 villages on the snow covered steps. In his report to Mr. Hoover, Dr. Dickerson gave the bare and gruesome details of his observations.

"Losses from famine in Soviet Russia," he said, "come under the heads of emigration, disease and death. Emigration from the villages now rises to about 30 percent. Houses are deserted, not a dog, cat or pig left, with snow breaking thru the roofs and windows. Smoke comes from the chimneys of not more than half the houses. Traveling on the roads one comes across pathetic caravans, father, mother, grandparents and samovir. When camel or horse falls sick is left to die on the open plain. Sick persons sit on top of the sledges and are taken to town to die."

Refugees Crowd Cars.
"On sidings everywhere, from Poland to the Urals are freight cars crowded with refugees. The government has not the locomotives to carry them so they are waiting. "Disease is general. Swollen bellies of children are so common as to no longer excite remark. The characteristic expression of childhood in Russia is that of a person 'sore at life.' I have learned to dread going into a room full of children. They all look up at me accusingly, bitterly, as if I had done it. They are born with resentment in their hearts."

"Diseases are well distributed between summer and winter. Last summer, cholera, this winter typhus. Russian lost 6,000,000 dead of typhus in 1919. One city of 200,000 lost 45,000. This year will be as bad."

"So many are already dying that they are burying them in wagon loads. They take off the clothes of the dead, throw them into boxes, put snow on the bodies to freeze them, then transport them in piles to the cemetery. There, twice a week, they are thrown into great holes, crosswise, packed closely. Dogs have become a menace and attack piles of bodies in droves and dig into graves. Dead children, starved to death are left outside in open ways in piles, covered with rags until they can be hauled away."

From his notes Dr. Dickerson described a burying ground near Samara, where the dead, gnawed by the dogs, were piled in frozen mounds until thrown into great excavations.

"There were three great holes," he continued, "ten by twenty feet and eighteen feet deep. Around these were piles of frozen naked bodies, men, women and children who had died of typhus and hunger. Dogs had been at some bodies and these were bloody. The dogs were driven away, all terribly emaciated and contorted into all shapes or grotesque agony."

"Skin Clad Bones."
"As one sees the lopsided houses of the Russian villages, the gnarled, skin clad bones of the famine corpses, one seizes the dominant motifs of the new Russian art. There was an unreality about these corpses that made it seem appropriate to discuss anything in their presence, cabarets, soda-water, futurist verse."

"In piles they were badly tangled up and had to be released like stiff puzzles. Dropped into the graves they made noises like wooden things of the same weight and shape. They had been men, women and children. About fifty come every day."

The psychological factor of relief work among these distressing conditions, Dr. Dickerson declared, was a factor to be considered. As a rule, he explained, the relief agents work along with the psychological effect of conditions around them is worth as serious consideration as in arctic exploration or in jungle travel.

When a relief agent starts to convey a load of food, Dr. Dickinson reported, he says good-bye to his friends for ten days, takes blankets, grub, lives in a box car and "takes his luck with bugs and bandits." Transportation, the key to relief, he declared, was almost lost.

Rail Facilities Poor.
"There are no rail lines except crazy narrow-gauge spurs set in some time past by some special interest to reach a town or a mining camp," he said. "To get from Samara to Kazan, 40 versts, you have to go to Moscow and back 2,000 versts. Same with other cities in the valley. I have seen an American boy stagger in an American Relief administration local headquarters after four days in a box car in which he had travelled 100 versts."

"For north and south transportation there are no resources but sledges. Under some conditions these can do up to twenty versts a day. Roads disappear under drifts. Country takes on appearance of the arctic without landmarks. Horses can drag their loads only three days a week. A week's provision for a horse is worth as much as a horse. The result is starving people who have horses are trading them for grain."

"People also are trading agricultural machinery for grain; this is bad on next year's crop. The number of horses over the entire area is but one-third of last spring; about one-tenth normal. Cattle and sheep are the same."

Russian peasants, Dr. Dickinson reported, are living on bread made out of anything that can be baked and eaten.

THE MERRY JOURNEYS OF MARY JANE

How Hungry Henry
Stole
Mary Jane's
Lunch

Hungry Henry had a wonderful appetite—nobody ever had to coax him to eat.

HUNGRY HENRY is a little fat pig that lives out back of the barn at Aunt Susan's house. Nobody ever has to coax him to eat.

Well, one day, Mary Jane was going to pick a mess of peas out in the garden, and she thought maybe she better have a nice lunch, in case she got hungry from working so hard.

So she cut two big slices of her Aunt Susan's home-made bread, and put a whole lot of Mary Jane Syrup on them, and put them together, like a sandwich. Then she wrapped them in a paper napkin, and put them on a big rock, right near the fence in the corner of the garden.

Well, it wasn't any time at all before Hungry Henry wandered over to the fence and looked in, to see if Mary Jane might throw him a few peas or something.

Finally he came opposite the stone where Mary Jane's lunch was. He sniffed, and wiggled the end of his nose, and said "oink, oink". Then all of a sudden he grabbed Mary Jane's sandwich, and ate up every crumb. When Mary Jane found out what Henry had done she told him right out he ought to be ashamed of himself. But Henry said "you haven't any right to leave a delicious Mary Jane Syrup sandwich so near the fence, either. So there!"

But Aunt Susan says that "he laughs best that laughs last", and maybe next time Henry will be sorry he was such a pig?

Educate Your Children Financially

If your children are failures, you are to blame. Your teaching is responsible for your children's career. Your failure in a financial way is due to your own parents' neglect of your education in saving and thrift. Comfortable living and a good home is within the reach of everyone who is not handicapped by a weak mind or physical disability. Recently we read of a man who had left $100,000 to one of his boys and only a ten-dollar gold piece to the other boy. The son who received the $100,000 squandered his money and became a tramp and the other who was bequeathed the ten-dollar gold piece became a multi-millionaire. One depended on his inheritance and the other on his grit and ability to save.

May we help you educate your boy or girl financially?

Wage Scale Group of Anthracite Miners in Big Session Monday

(By the Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Mar. 13.—The scale committee for the Anthracite coal miners met here today to perfect plans for a joint conference with representatives of the operators Wednesday. The demand for the operators to be present was formulated at a convention in January.

The miners will ask that the continued wage scale be increased 20 percent and that all men paid by the day be given an increase of $1 a day. A standard check-off system will be asked and a straight seven hour day installed for inside labor.

The scale committee is under instructions for the convention "to perfect arrangements provided for suspension of mining activities April 1, in the event that no satisfactory agreement has been arrived at on that date."

THIRD TRIAL FOR FATTY IS OPENED

Court-Wear Comedian Before Bar Again Today For Another Round.

(By the Associated Press.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Mar. 13.—The case of Roscoe C. (Fatty) Arbuckle charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, was called today for trial the third time, but a recess was taken until the afternoon session of court because fourteen of the venire of 65 were not on hand. The first two attempts to convict Arbuckle of a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of Miss Rappe ended in mistrials. The first jury voted 10 to 2 for acquittal and the second 10 to 2 for conviction.

On September 5, 1921, a drinking party was held in Arbuckle's suite in the Hotel St. Francis, which was attended by Miss Rappe, her friend Mrs. Bambina Maud Delmont, Prevost and Alice Blake, showgirl and a number of others. After Arbuckle had been alone in his room with Miss Rappe for a brief period she was found on a bed, apparently in agony. Four days later she died from the effects of ruptured bladder. On September 10, Mrs. Delmont swore to a murder charge against Arbuckle and three days later the grand jury returned a man-slaughter indictment against him. A police court hearing of Mrs. Delmont's charge resulted in its being reduced to man-slaughter, and Arbuckle went to trial on this charge on November 14. On Sunday, December 4, the jury ended a period of deliberation covering 43 hours with the statement that it could not agree. The second trial started January 11 and ended February 3, the jury being out 44 hours. Arbuckle testified in the first trial, but did not do so in the second.

After the second trial District Attorney Mathew Brady announced that "had a majority of the jury voted for acquittal I would have moved for the dismissal of the case but the preponderance in favor of a conviction compels me to prosecute it a third time." The second trial was on the grand jury's indictment. Through the failure of the jurists to agree both the indictment and the police court charge were kept alive.

BRONCHOSCOPE IS NEW DEVICE FOR SURGEONS

PHILADELPHIA, March 13.—Publicity attached to the recent successful operation on a little Kansas City girl here for the removal of a pin from her bronchus, has drawn attention to a curious surgical instrument invented for such a purpose. While the instrument, the bronchoscope, as it is called, is little known to the lay public, physicians said its use for the removal of foreign objects from the lungs and stomach is quite common and that clinics are held throughout the country.

The bronchoscope appears simple enough to the eye. Roughly, it is a straight metal tube, more than one-quarter of an inch in diameter and about 15 1/2 inches long. A tiny wire runs down the tube and there is an electric light at the bottom which enables the surgeon to see into the interior of the lungs, bronchus or stomach. The foreign object is first located by means of X-rays, and then the tube is inserted through the mouth into the lung or stomach. An especially designed pair of forceps is then inserted through the tube into the part affected and the object removed. The operation is often bloodless and requires but a few minutes. It has been known for a patient to leave the hospital within a few minutes after the operation, and when he had entered his life was in jeopardy from the introduction of a foreign substance into vital parts of his body.

Among various objects that have been removed from the lungs or stomachs of patients in this city are safety pins, common pins, hat pins, false teeth, tacks, sewing needles, staples, hypodermic needles, coins and watch charms.

The Ada Charity Clinic is now organized. On December 16, 1921 a number of doctors met at the office of Dr. M. C. McNew and organized and established a staff for the purpose of caring for the suffering poor of Ada and surrounding country.

This staff will give their services to all who are not able to pay and the requirements will be to bring a certificate from their family physician or some reliable layman or the secretary of the Red Cross.

This clinic will be open for applicants on Mondays and Thursdays of each week at Dr. McNew's office and they will be directed to members of the staff according to their disability.

Members of the Staff Are As Follows:

RECORD CROWDS FILL CHRISTIAN CHURCH SUNDAY

All previous records of attendance were broken at the First Christian church yesterday, due largely to the contest now being waged between the Red and Green classes. The contest will be continued through this week.

At the morning hour were well attended and considerable interest was manifested in the sermon, "Open Communion," delivered by Rev. C. R. L. Vawter. Twenty-three additional to the church were received. Two services were held at the evening hour in order to give all a chance to hear the sermons. The first crowd, after packing the house to overflowing, was dismissed through the side door, while another congregation, waiting on the outside for the second sermon, crowded into the building. Many expressed the opinion that while the double-header affair was a success, attendance would have been greater if three services had been held instead of two.

Music also was featured during the services. During the entire day 30 people were taken into the church. There will be no services tonight, it was announced, as Monday nights are taken off for rest periods. Stirring sermons by the evangelists have drawn as large crowds as any revival heretofore held by this church, it was said by members.

MEN TO REGULATE BANKS ARE NAMED

Liquidation Agents Chosen to Work on Guthrie and El Reno Cases.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Mar. 13.—Local liquidation agents to take charge of the Guthrie State Bank at Guthrie, and the Commercial State Bank at El Reno, were to be appointed today by Roy Wolcott, acting state bank commissioner following the announcement last night by Attorney General George Short of a plan by which failed state banks would be liquidated by local persons familiar with conditions immediately responsible for the banks' embarrassment. Both of the foregoing banks are closed.

The plan as announced by the attorney general, provides for the naming of some local man, conversant with the banking business and qualified to act under bond as the agent for the state banking department in the settlement of the affairs of every defunct bank. This agent would be required to carry out the provisions of the law provided for the reduction of bank assets to cash and paying of depositors. He would make a weekly report to the banking department here. The previous method of the banking department in settling affairs of failed banks, the statement recalls, was to place a bank examiner in charge, but as there are only eight examiners in the department, while 16 banks failed in the last few months, this system has proven inadequate for the present emergency.

U. S. Court Drops Writ of Error in Mine Labor Tangle

WASHINGTON, March 13.—The supreme court dismissed the writs of error by which Alexander Howat and other laborers sought to have reviewed the decision of the Kansas state courts holding them guilty of contempt of court for their refusal to appear before the court of industrial relations.

The opinion of the court, delivered by Chief Justice Taft, stated that the question of the constitutionality of the Kansas statute creating the court of industrial relations and prohibiting strikes in the settlement of labor disputes were not brought before the court in proper form for it to act upon.

Farmers' Column

By Byron Norrell

Before long we shall likely hear complaints about sore head among chickens, especially young chickens. Usually this is caused by mosquito bites. The larger chickens are either able to stand more or else put their heads under their wings when attacked by the blood thirsty insects, but the young chickens often die as a result of frequent bites. I have found that spraying the chicken house with kerosene or sprinkling it well with the oil just before night is a very effective way of keeping the mosquitoes away.

From the trade centers it is reported that heavy receipts of eggs is forcing the price to lower levels. The supply and demand for poultry and creamery products are about equal, so the priced showed little variation last week.

Oklahoma Crop Notes.
OKLAHOMA CITY, Mar. 11.—For the third consecutive week moisture conditions have been improved over the state. The rains of the past week were general, the heaviest precipitation recorded in the North Central and Northwestern counties. Figures available at noon Friday showed that Muskogee had .41 of an inch of rain, Altus .25 and Wichita, Kan., .54 of an inch fell. Wheat has shown a marked improvement since the recent rains and snows. Many fields that looked bad or were late in sprouting are beginning to turn green. Those farmers who plowed promptly last summer and kept the soil in good condition have found that their wheat weathered the dry spell exceptionally well.

The sowing of barley and oats is practically finished and prospects for rapid growth seem bright at the present.

It is estimated that on March 1, 6,152,000 bushels of wheat or 13 percent remained on farms from last year's crop, compared with 23 percent or 12,348,000 bushels on the same date one year ago and 15 percent of 9,908,000 bushels two years ago. The ten year average shows that 10 percent of the crop is usually in the hands of the farmer on March 1. During the current season 65 percent of the wheat was shipped out of the county where grown, compared with 61 percent in 1921 and 70 percent in 1920. The ten year average is 65 percent.

The percentage of corn held on farms on March 1 of this year was 38 percent. This figure is not as high as that reported for this time last year, but considerably above the average for the past ten years. The percentage shipped out of the counties where grown averaged 14 percent which is 5 points lower than the average for 1921, but equal to the ten year average. The quality of last year's crop was better than the average for the state and the percent merchantable while not as high as in the preceding year, was 17 points above the ten year average.

Oklahoma raised 35,300,000 bushels of oats in 1921; of this amount 34 percent or 12,002,000 bushels remained in the hands of the farmer on March 1. While the production of oats last season was the lowest of the past three years, still with the exception of 1915, the production was larger than any year prior to 1920.

A very interesting letter was received by this office from a farmer in Pushmataha county during the past week. This farmer stated that he had 320 acres of land that he did not raise cotton, but specialized in corn, sweet and Irish potatoes and particularly chickens. His smoke house was full of meat, he did not depend on any one crop; had money in the bank in both his and his wife's name and claimed that the income from his poultry compared favorably with the receipts of an average oil well. The grocery bill was an unknown item in his yearly affairs.

Farmers over the state have a more optimistic view of this year's crops since the rains of recent dates, and are taking an added interest in their plans for the coming year. —J. A. Whitehurst, president of the state board of agriculture.

Controlling Poultry Lice.
Can a setting hen be blamed for leaving her nest to get away from lice? Is there any wonder the number of eggs on the lice-infected farm is less than on the farm where there are no lice to pester your poultry?

Unquestionably the answer to the above questions is no. Then it behooves the owners of poultry. How can it be done? Sodium fluoride powder is probably the best remedy according to Professor J. R. Watson of the Florida experiment station. It is most economically applied to fowls by the pinch method; that is, a pinch of powder is dusted on the head, one under each wing, one under each thigh, one around the vent, one around the breast, and two on the back.

Another excellent remedy is: One part of mercurial ointment, also called "blue ointment," and one or two parts of vasoline. These are mixed thoroughly, and a bit the size of a pea is rubbed on the fowl under the wings and about the vent. It is not necessary, nor even desirable to rub it over the entire fowl as the lice are restless insects and in crawling over the fowl are sure to get into the mixture. This mixture is cheap, efficient, and easily applied.

One important condition is controlling chicken lice is to give the fowls abundant opportunity to dust themselves. For this purpose, dust, mixed lime, ashes, or any light, dusty material is suitable. Fresh, very slightly damp earth in which to scratch or dust should always be available.

Of the several kinds of lice that commonly attack chickens, one crawls over the skin, especially under the wings and on the posterior part of the body, but seldom gets onto the feathers. Another is particularly a feather mite and is some what smaller than the body louse. Another common louse that is very injurious to young chickens attacks the head and is called the head louse. It is best controlled,

WALKER TO RAISE STOCK IN BENTON CO. ARKANSAS

O. N. Walker, former secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce, returned Saturday night from Rogers, Arkansas, where he has just purchased a home to which he will move in June and engage in livestock raising.

Rogers is in Benton county, near Bentonville, the county seat, and is in the heart of one of the south's most famous fruit and berry raising sections. Walker says Benton county is famous for its good roads. He drove 19 miles Thursday over the country roads near his new home and in spite of the fact that rain had been falling steadily for several days the party was not foregotten to put chains on the automobile.

"I've signed up my first naturalization papers in Arkansas," Walker declared today.

We'll back a jar of Vicks against the worst cold in Ada, Okla.

Every family here is invited to try the DIRECT treatment for all cold troubles

ABSORBED, like a liniment, and, at the same time, INHALED, as a vapor, Vicks reaches immediately the congested, inflamed air passages.

LITERALLY millions of families who have tried Vicks are now continual users of our product.

So, naturally, we want you to make the test. Here is our offer—

Buy a 35c. jar from your druggist—use all or part of it—if you are not delighted with the results, mail us the top of the carton and the purchase price will be cheerfully refunded.

Made for years past

We make this offer and have made it for years because Vicks really helps the majority of cold troubles.

Vicks doesn't relieve every case, of course. No remedy can do that.

But if it fails in your case your money will be returned without question and remember—YOU ARE THE SOLE JUDGE.

A druggist's discovery

A number of years ago a North Carolina druggist, searching for a better way to treat colds, hit upon a wonderful formula.

He combined in the form of a salve the best of Nature's remedies for colds—Camphor, Menthol, Eucalyptus, Thyme and Turpentine, with other valuable ingredients.

When this salve is applied over the throat and chest it not only penetrates and stimulates like a liniment, but the ingredients are released as vapors by the body heat. Thus the medication is carried with each breath thru the nose and throat to the lungs.

Now used from coast to coast

This remedy, Vicks Vaporub, won instant local favor and its fame has spread, county by county, state by state, until now Vicks is a family standby from coast to coast.

Over 17 million jars are used yearly.

Just right for children

Mothers like to use Vicks because it is applied externally.

It avoids dosing and upsetting the children's stomachs.

When kiddies come in wet and sniffling it is applied to prevent colds.

It helps to keep off attacks of spasmodic croup—it is a quick treatment for all cold troubles.

In addition, its cooling, soothing qualities make it useful every day for cuts, burns, bruises, stings and skin troubles.

Prevent grip—pneumonia

Grip and pneumonia are frequently the results of carelessness.

Keep away from the sneezers and coughers in street cars and public places, if possible.

If you are obliged to mingle with them, insert some Vicks in the nostrils just before going out. It stimulates the membrane and helps Nature to repel bacteria.

At the first sign of a cold

During this grip-pneumonia weather it is "better to be safe than sorry." Here is the safest plan if people would just follow it—

At the first sign of a cold go home, take a hot bath for 30 minutes and drink several glasses of hot lemonade.

Take a laxative and a good sweat under blankets. Then dry the body. Apply Vicks liberally over throat and chest, covering with hot flannel cloths.

Go to bed and leave the bed-clothes loose about the neck so that the medicated vapors will be inhaled all night long.

This treatment will often banish a cold over night and so avoid the possibility of grip or pneumonia.

How Vicks should be used

For Spasmodic Croup, Children's Colds—Rub Vicks over the throat and chest until the difficult breathing is relieved, then spread on thickly and cover with a hot flannel cloth. One application at bed time usually prevents a night attack of croup.

For Head Colds, Asthma, Catarrh, Hay Fever—Vicks should be melted in a spoon and the vapors inhaled, or a little can be applied up the nostrils and snuffed up the head.

For Deep Chest Colds, Sore Throat, Tonsillitis, Bronchitis, Coughs—Vicks should be applied over the throat and chest—if necessary, first using hot, wet cloths to open the pores of the skin—then rubbed in well until the skin is red; spread on thickly and covered with one or two thicknesses of hot flannel cloths. If the cough is annoying, swallow small pieces the size of a pea.

Vapors Important—Remember that half the effect of Vicks is in the inhalation of its vapors. So when applied over throat and chest leave bed-clothes and night clothing loose at the neck so that these vapors can be freely inhaled.
